RESOLUTION IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Dr. Bennett Says Unemployment Has Not Decreased In Lawrence County

FOLLOWING A NUMBER OF ADDRESSSES IN BEHALF OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW COURT HOUSE HERE, A RESOLUTION WAS ADOPTED AT THE MASS MEETING HELD IN THE COURT HOUSE MONDAY EVENING, DEMANDING PROMPT ACTION ON THE PART OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS IN SECURING A SITE AND STARTING CONSTRUCTION OF THE BUILDING.

The continuous approval of the project by 24 grand juries after they had inspected the facilities at the old building during their tour of duty, the absolute need for the building; and the fact that the government stands ready to furnish a handsome portion of the money needed in its construction were all cited by proponents of the new court house, during the course of the meeting.

GUY J. WADLINGER presided as chairman of the meeting and called upon Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the Lawrence County Relief Board, to give statistics relative to unemployment here.

MANY STILL UNEMPLOYED Dr. Bennett stated that he was appearing as an unbiased observer, and that he was not so much interested in the construction of a court house as he was in seeing public works projects started here, regardless of what nature they might be, as the unemployment question was still a serious one in Lawrence County.

Dr. Bennett pointed out the fact that in spite of statistics which show there has been a gain in employment and business in the country during the past year, the number of unemployed and those on relief is almost identical with what it was at this time last year. This has been due to new additions to this relief rolls.

He pointed out the fact that some time ago, it was called to the attention of the heads of the various county relief boards in the state, that the counties were expected to

HUGHES URGES WORKERS TO AVERT STEEL STRIKE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 5.—Recounting the trials and tribulations of the last four years both to employer and employees, I. Lamont Hughes, president of Carnegie Steel company, today appealed to workers to avert the threatened steel strike.

In a lengthy open letter to employees of the concern, Hughes said: "I earnestly bespeak your aid, and I sincerely pledge you the cooperation of the management to that end."

The letter asserted the company and practically all other companies in the steel industry has received formal notice and threat of strikes from two main sources. These are listed as the amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America, the A. F. of L. Affiliate, and the Steel and Metal Workers Industrial union, an organization said to be affiliated with the Communist movement.

"It is a matter of public information that the present strike program of the 'amalgamated' Hughes' statement read, "is engineered by a radical 'rank and file party' within

Johnson Seeks To Forestall Planned March By Radical Steel Workers

NRA HEAD IS MEETING LEADERS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Moving quickly to forestall a "Coxy's army march" on Washington by steel workers, Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, today sought a conference with William J. Spang, steel union spokesman for the "left wing" faction of the workers.

While Earl Forbeck, a district president, was announcing plans at Pittsburgh for a march on the capitol, Spang was meeting with Senator Wagner, chairman of the national labor board, and arranging a meeting with various members of the board in the hope of gaining a decision to guarantee workers the right of peaceful election of representatives in their fight for collective bargaining.

At the same time, President Roosevelt was in conference with Alvan McCauley, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in the hope of avoiding a nation-wide general steel strike threatened by steel workers.

HOPES TO MEET SITUATION Johnson hopes to promulgate a committee of workers, employers and recovery officials to study the steel labor situation, a plan similar to that under which the administration is acting in the automobile industry.

"Progress made by the automobile labor board should be an example to every industry in the country," Johnson said in discussing the threat of steel workers to strike on that section.

Repairs worked from 9 last night until 6 a.m. today in order to close the leak and install new pipe.

On Monday morning an eight inch main underneath the railroad crossing across near the Pennsylvania Engineering Works split open and released a torrent of water. Service was resumed in that section within a short time.

The water company office today reported that an increase of more than 2,000,000 gallons of water is being recorded on daily pumping charts this June over the corresponding period of 1933.

Not since August and September of 1930, the period of the last long drought has the draft on feeder lines been so heavy.

Careful checks have revealed that garden hoses are draining lines heavily in the early evening hours.

Program In Cathedral At 8; President Tolley Of Allegheny To Speak

Dr. William Pearson Tolley, president of Allegheny college and a frequent public speaker here will make the principal address tonight at the 63rd commencement exercises of the Senior high school in the Cathedral auditorium.

The graduation exercises will open at 8 o'clock.

While the weather is hot, New Castle audiences know that the coolest of local auditoriums in the summertime is the Cathedral, and for that reason a good crowd is anticipated.

Rainfall occurred in scattered sections of the drought area during the last 24 hours. The precipitation fell in parts of Illinois, Indiana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Iowa.

High temperatures still prevailed, adding greatly to the process of crop destruction.

A class of 275 seniors will receive diplomas from President Daniel B. Woolcock of the board of education. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, will be heard during the exercises and six local civic and patriotic organizations will make their commencement awards. There will be several musical features.

Two Water Mains Break On Monday

HIGHLAND AND MORAVIA LINES RELEASE TORRENTS; CONSUMPTION GAINS

Sudden breaks in water mains in two different sections of the city Monday kept emergency repair crews of the New Castle Water company on the jump, restoring needed service for residents of those areas.

In the Highland avenue district between Garfield and Sheridan avenue, a six inch main split open about 9 o'clock and flooded Highland from curb to curb. The break, not reported by neighbors, was first detected by delicate instruments at the New Castle Water pump station on the Shenango river which recorded extremely high consumption in that section.

Repairmen worked from 9 last night until 6 a.m. today in order to close the leak and install new pipe.

On Monday morning an eight inch main underneath the railroad crossing across near the Pennsylvania Engineering Works split open and released a torrent of water. Service was resumed in that section within a short time.

Little Finland Only Country Preparing To Meet Obligation To U. S.

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Under the leadership of Great Britain, Europe today started a new and determined effort to force the United States to agree to drastic reduction of the ten billion dollars owned American taxpayers.

At the cost of its tradition reputation of integrity in honoring its debts, Britain joined the debt defaulting nations of Europe in the hope of forcing this government into considering a new settlement on a drastically reduced scale.

BRITAIN WON'T PAY.

The British government notified the state department of its intention to suspend all future payments until a new settlement is reached.

A complete and indefinite suspension of virtually all debt payments faces this nation as a result of Britain's action.

Findland is the only European debtor nation expected to continue meeting its American obligations.

SENATE MAY HOLD UP CONGRESS ACTION

Minority Will Battle Measures

Long Summer Session Is Threat If Adjournment Is Not Made This Week

OPPOSE PRESIDENT'S "MUST" PROGRAM

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 5.—An all summer session confronted congress today if administration leaders attempt to carry out President Roosevelt's demand for enactment of a six-point "must" legislative program.

A militant Republican minority in the senate virtually served notice on the Democrats they would battle enactment of each measure on the program if adjournment were postponed beyond Saturday. Their threats indicated the bills would be debated for weeks, unless the president agrees to some modification of the program and fixed date of adjournment.

Senate Chiefly Concerned.

The program concerned the senate chiefly, since the house is under a literal "gag" law. Armed with a new "rule" reminiscent of Czar Reed's day a quarter century ago, house leaders will be able to pass any legislation they desire and as quickly as they desire. They showed their power by enacting a $1,178,000,000 unemployment relief appropriation after forty minutes debate—at a rate of $29,450,000 a minute.

The senate started the president's new program by making his new silver bill its "unfinished business" after enacting the reciprocal tariff act. The silver bill could be passed in a few days, but with an unlimited calendar ahead. Insurgent Democrats and the Republican opposition undoubtedly will debate it for days, if not for weeks.

Controversial Bills Up.

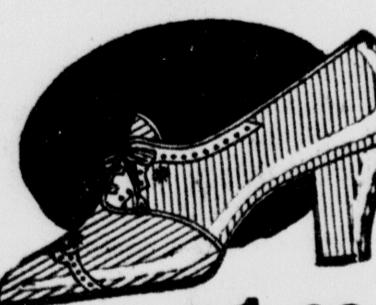

Besides the silver bill, the president requested enactment of the highly controversial Wagner labor disputes bill, the equally controversial Wallace farm licensing act, and his own new housing program. On top of this, Mr. Roosevelt wanted the billion-dollar unemployment relief appropriation enacted, along with another appropriation, yet to be determined, for the relief of drought stricken areas.

A group of Republicans and Democrats are determined to prevent passage of the Wagner bill, even at the price of prolonging the session of congress for weeks. This group will fight passage of every piece of legislation, Hopkins to forestall action on the Wagner bill.

Hughes offered no comment on the Communist union adding: "I am sure it can have no appeal to the employees of this company."

The letter recounted the employee representation plan and listed five other activities other than representation in which workers and management have been associated together.

Another section of the statement said:

"It is true that business is improving—we all certainly hope it will continue good enough to put the steel corporation in a position to earn at least a small profit; but there can be no hope of that if this threatened strike occurs in the manner now proposed by union agitators."

Officer Slain

One police officer was slain and another critically wounded as the desperadoes, believed three in number, sped southward toward Louisville with guns blazing. Their wild dash was halted when their car was wrecked ten miles north of the Ohio river and they fled afoot under a rain of bullets.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Amick, 25, of Scottsburg, who surprised the outlaws when their car crashed into a store at Underwood, was shot in the head and died three hours afterward at St. Edward hospital at New Albany.

Only a few minutes earlier night policeman Harry Paffenberg, 28, was shot down with four bullets at a road intersection on the outskirts of Seymour as he attempted to halt the gangsters. He remained in critical condition today at a hospital there but hope was held for his recovery.

Kidnaps Auto Driver

Underwood, Ind., June 5.—Ralph Shields, 37, farmer near here, was kidnapped early today by a man believed to be one of the mobsters who last night killed an officer and wounded another in a running gun orgy in southern Indiana.

Shields was forced at pistol point to give his automobile to the bandits and then to accompany him in it.

The bandit held up Gilbert Shields, cousin of the kidnapped man, as he entered his barn on a farm seven miles southwest of here.

Gilbert had no automobile, however, so the gunman forced him to go to a neighbor's across the road and about a quarter of a mile away. Here Ralph was held up and forced to drive away with the bandit at his side holding a gun against his ribs.

The abductor and his captive, with the latter at the wheel, was sighted at south Boston this morning, headed toward Salem.

Property Owners Register Friday

Men Who Owe Back Property Taxes To Be Provided With Work

First step of the city toward providing employment for persons who owe property tax for 1931, 1932 and 1933 will be taken Friday when a registration will be held at the toolhouse, Croton avenue, between the hours of 2 p. m. and 5 p. m., according to Harry Hoskins, city engineer. The order in which the property owners register will have no bearing as to when they will be assigned to work.

The city plans to resurface a number of streets and alleys and recently awarded a contract for 10,000 tons, more or less, of asphalt, at a bid price of $5.08 a ton.

The resurfacing will be done under the supervision of the city engineer. As the registration will start Friday afternoon, it is believed actual operations will start soon.

Mrs. Frank Cox of Patterson avenue, has been recalled to the home of her sister Mrs. Frank Onstott Drake, 221 Briggs Avenue, Mt. Oliver Pittsburgh. Mrs. Drake has been ill

GOLDEN WEDDING IS FITTINGLY OBSERVED

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Humphrey of Jacksville, near Slippery Rock, was appropriately observed on May 30.

A luncheon was served at noon to thirty six guests including six persons who attended the wedding a half century ago. Around the children's table were seated the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey; those named and located as follows:

J. Roy who lives at the old Humphrey homestead, Worth township, Butler county; Mrs. Nina Shields, Worth township; Butler county; Mrs. Fernie Glenn, Plain Grove, Frank W. Lotrope, Pa., Carl G. of Grove City, Howard, Floyd and Edwin of Worth township, Mrs. Lois Book, Worth township, Victor M. of Prospect and C. Jennings of Jacksonville.

The table was centered with a large four layer white cake decorated with gold icing and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Low bowls of yellow roses accented the gold idea. Other guests were seated at smaller tables where golden flowers and ribbons carried out the color scheme. Place cards were ingeniously contrived to hold yellow rosebuds.

Singing in unison, the other luncheon guests surrounded the main table between courses and under the leadership of Rev. Carl Jones of Sharon, serenaded the fortunate couple and their children. At this time, each parent received a gold watch as a gift from their sons and daughters.

Twenty two grandchilren added to the pleasure of the day by their presence.

Almost 300 relatives and friends were greeted by the happy couple at afternoon and evening receptions and left many lovely gifts to keep the occasion in remembrance. Cool refreshments were served in the dining room by the older grandchilren.

The six wedding guests of fifty years ago present were Miss Lizzie Book, Mrs. Emma Barkley, Mrs. Gran Grossman, Mrs. Edward Covert, Sherman Humphrey, brother of the groom, and Marion Hay, brother of the bride.

Among other people who were present during the day to congratulate the Humphreys on achieving the half century anniversary included: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Haid and Miss Emma Mershimer of Pittsburgh; Howard Butler and son of New Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dale and daughter from Monroe; James Marshall and the Edwin Humphrey of Butler; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Humphrey from Ellwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ladd and family, Meadville; Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Humphrey, Saltsburgh.

TRIBUTE TO AMERICA

IT WAS a fine tribute to the skill of American airplane designers and builders that Col. James Fitzmaurice, famous Irish pilot, recently voiced.

Colonel Fitzmaurice plans to enter the London-Melbourne race, which will be held under British auspices—and he's going to fly an American plane.

"I've had a look at everything the Germans have to offer, and also the Dutch, French, British, and Italians," he says, "and I must say that the progress the United States has made in motors and in aircraft far surpasses anything else I have seen."

"Unquestionably, your long distance speed planes are the finest in the world."

Coming from a man who has done his full share of long-distance flying, and is in a position to know what he is talking about, this is a notable tribute.

MORE ARE GRADUATING

This month finds thousands of high school and college graduates leaving academic halls with diplomas in hand—but with not-too-bright prospects for wage-earning jobs.

Most of the scholastics, it is to be hoped, may find ways and means of continuing their studies in colleges and universities. A few of the collegians will go on to pursue graduate work in various professions.

Yet the bald fact remains. Those who will finish their collegiate studies this month still face the difficult problem of finding suitable work so that they may enter their life's work with at least fairly encouraging prospects.

The outlook is not altogether gloomy, however. Business conditions are better than they were a year ago, although far from the "palmy days" stage of 1927 and 1928 when college, and university graduates could pick and choose their own jobs from among a wide selection. Industry and the professions, business and kindred fields, still need the educated man; they will be back after him before long.

In the meantime, the graduate will not be long these days in acquainting himself with the "cruel, cruel world," which is distributing bumps and bruises in indiscriminate manner among the populace of this and other nations. He will learn, too, that nothing was ever truer than the old saying which indicates "money is not everything." He will find there are vast opportunities for service to humanity, especially from the college-educated man, which have compensations out-reaching any monetary rewards.

The graduate of 1934 will come through, though, when the returns are all in. He has already demonstrated his capabilities; many of his numbers knew before graduation what it is to take hard knocks in the pursuance of a central aim. The nation has great confidence in him. And he will not fail.

SUGGEST DAY TO HONOR TEACHERS

Officials of Southeastern University, at Washington, have proposed the observance of a special day set aside to honor the school teachers of the United States.

Graduates and students at the university plan to observe it for themselves next Sunday, with each participant writing letters to teachers who have been most instrumental in preparing them to face life's problems.

The suggestion is one that might well be adopted nationally. As Dr. James A. Bell, president of that institution, declared, "in our desire to recognize personages and events for their true value we have, however, overlooked a group of individuals who have contributed greatly to the upbuilding of a truly great civilization. They are none other than our teachers..."

"Days" of one kind and another are all too frequent in the modern age; but it appears that there is room for another—so significant as this one. The great army of American school teachers, active and retired, has played an incalculably valuable part in moulding this nation. But all too often they are forgotten in the press of our daily affairs.

By setting aside a National "Teachers' Day" every year, a day which would be marked by students—past and present—sending notes of appreciation to instructors who were most helpful in their public school days, the country would be paying a deserved tribute to one of its most valuable professional groups.

GEOGRAPHICAL ADVANTAGE

Europe's present jitters again remind us how fortunately we—Canada too, likewise Mexico—are placed. We need no wall of steel on either of our borders nor do our neighbors need any forts against us. We have none and the best part of it is that none of the three countries worries about it.

In Europe when one nation prices an airplane or looks at a gun salesman's samples nine of the other nations get all hot and bothered and start making bayonets. The air is full of war scares and folks talk to sleeping on their toccos.

But who in Canada cares whether we increase or cut down our army? Who in the United States knows or cares whether Canada has any troops? Does Canada see a menace in the United States fleet? On the contrary any Canadian port would be overjoyed to be made the base of the entire American navy.

They like us as visitors and we like them. Canada lures our tourists and we lure theirs. In the Northwest, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia throw in together to drum up tourist business and pass the customers around. Canada builds fine hotels and our railroads make special rates to reach them. All hands are too busy in neighborliness to think about military fears.

Playing a violin in a street in London was held by a magistrate to constitute a nuisance. Maybe it was the tune.

SLOW DOWN AND ENJOY YOURSELF

Your new car is faster, operates more easily, and is more comfortable than the old one.

If you could be satisfied with the length of trips you took in the old but they might be made with much greater ease in this new car.

But instead you plan trips of greater length because it is possible for you to cover greater distance in the same period of time.

The result is that you and your family don't enjoy the extent of pleasure you might if you were to exercise good sense and judgment in arranging trips.

You're on the road the same number of hours as in former days but you travel faster which makes it necessary for you to be more watchful and does not permit you or anyone with you to enjoy the sections through which you pass.

You whiz through country of historic value passing points of interest which should be familiar and interesting to all.

If you have children you make it impossible for them to gain certain knowledge that would add greatly to their education.

WORKING IT OUT

The mistress of the house took a friendly interest in her maid. One day she asked how her love affair was progressing.

"Oh, I've given that fellow up now," said the girl coldly.

The mistress expressed her regret and hoped the girl would be successful another time.

Two days later she saw her maid with the same young man.

"Mary," she said in tones of surprise, "I thought you told me you had given up that young man?"

"That's right, ma'am. I have," said the girl airily; "but, you see what it is, he hasn't finished workin' off his fortnight's notice yet."

Wheat Surplus May Be Cut To Near Normal By Crop Conditions

(Editor's Note)—The drought in the western states of the United States and in the great grain-producing areas of Europe may prove a blessing in disguise for nations laboring to escape the world-wide economic crisis, writes H. R. Knickerbocker, brilliant correspondent of International News Service, despite the temporary hardships it imposes upon the former.

His article follows:

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, by International News Service)

LONDON, June 5.—The hand of God has come to support Roosevelt's declared British economists and grain traders here today as reports of the drought both in America and Europe indicated a possibility of grain and especially wheat crop reductions so large that for the first time in seven years there seemed to be a chance that the world surplus might be reduced to normal proportions.

If this happens as British economists point out, despite its cruel immediate effect on the farmers involved today, its long range consequences may provide world economy with the final impetus towards real recovery. For, as they emphasize, a rise in prices of the world's principal commodity, brought about not by artificial limitations of production or export, but by an act of nature actually reducing the physical supply of wheat, might well prove the signal for a general price rise all along the line.

The resultant increase of purchasing power on the part of commodity producers would then lead them to buy more manufactured products and once the world is caught up by this beneficial circle it will be just as impossible to prevent recovery as it was impossible to check the vicious tide of depression.

The beauty of this act of nature from the gold economic standpoint is that its reduction of crops actually works whereas no scheme of limitation of any commodity yet attempted on a worldwide scale has worked permanently.

Sugar, rubber, coffee and a dozen other commodities whose producers attempted to get together and by restriction of output to fix prices proved how fallible such schemes were. Pool members either failed to keep their promises or outsiders rendered their agreements futile.

The prime example of this is furnished by the wheat men now in London awaiting resumption of the sessions of the world economic conference's sub-committee on wheat. A fortnight ago they were a sour lot. Today they can hardly repress their jubilation. The committee had suspended sessions until June 27 due to the insistence of Argentina on having her export quota raised by 40,000,000 bushels.

The feeling against Argentina has been strong but today the sentiment is that it doesn't matter much what quotas are allotted since nature has taken a hand and promises to down the world's surplus to reasonable proportions.

Full benefit of the drought, however, will not be felt until it continues longer, especially in the importing countries of Europe which have built up large domestic wheat production since the war. It has been increased wheat production by importing countries that has forced the world wheat surplus to its recent economic level.

The importing countries raised their production by 400,000,000 bushels since 1927 whereas the production of exporting countries remains about the same.

According to the records of the International Institute of Agriculture the world surplus which was 250,000,000 bushels in the year ending July, 1928, has risen steadily until 1933 it was 692,000,000. The institute estimated surplus in 1934 would be 580,000,000 or more than twice the comparatively healthy level of 1927.

British sources now estimate that the drought has caused a debit of around 65,000,000 bushels in America, Germany, France, Rumania, Jugoslavia and Poland. The five principal countries of Europe are all more or less hard hit by unfavorable weather. If they lost ten per cent of their crop it will mean another reduction of around 80,000,000 bushels.

Russia, where drought is very severe, it is thought may have difficulty in exporting at all. She is already importing for her far eastern army. Failure of Russian exports would eliminate another 30,000,000 bushels.

Total reduction then might conceivably be in the neighborhood of 170 to 200 million bushels, bringing down the world surplus to around 380 to 400 million bushels. Optimistic members of the wheat fraternity go further and profess to foresee a possibility that reduction may bring the surplus nearer 250,000 bushels. That would be the first time it was so low since the years 1928 and 1929 when world wheat prices C. I. F. at British ports were double those of today and when prosperity was abroad in every land.

One of the three motorcycles will be kept.

Dr. Samuel Warner of Croton avenue appeared before city council relative to drainage of water in Hutchinson street, commonly called Hutchinson street. He said that years ago he had constructed a sidewalk along his property and later a gutter was constructed. Since then the water from the portion beyond the railroad tracks has come down and made the portion toward Croton avenue quite bad. Streets Director Butler informed Dr. Warner that as soon as other work could be completed the condition complained of will be taken care of.

Sealer of Weights and Inspector of Measures A. R. English has presented to council his report of activities during May. He inspected 125 scales and 346 measures. During repairs to the East street city building annex the police cars are parked in East street. They are headed south and it takes only a second for the cars to get under way. Parking on the east side of East street between East Washington street and Sycamore way has been prohibited. Autoists who place their cars there are most certain to receive a tag for violating the parking law.

British sources now estimate that the drought has caused a debit of around 65,000,000 bushels in America, Germany, France, Rumania, Liquid measures were found pretty generally correct, only four out of 662 inspected being condemned. Three platform scales were found correct, and two out of five counter scales needed adjustment. Four computing scales were inspected and two adjusted. Twenty packages examined were all found to be marked correctly.

HOW YOUR ENGINE "BREATHES"

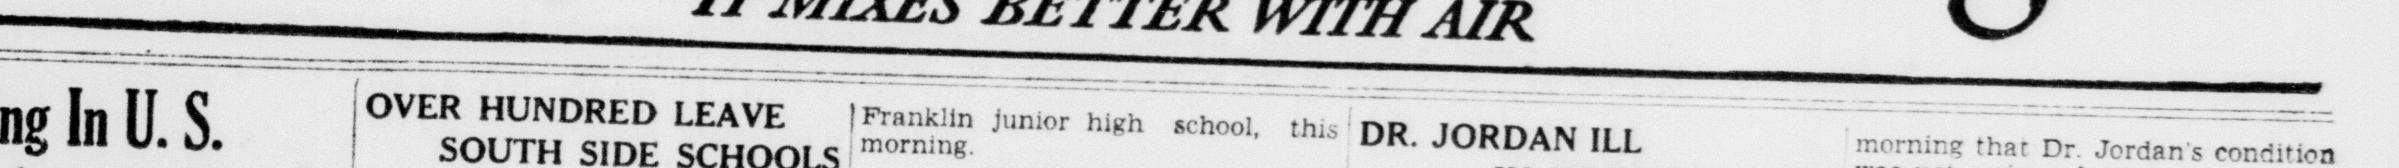

FIRE AND RECHARGE! Fire—and recharge! Your engine has a "beat," too. Each cylinder draws in a fresh supply of "gas" with every alternate down stroke of the pistons.

YOUR CAR CAN'T BURN liquid gasoline. It must first turn gasoline into "gas" by mixing it with large quantities of air.

Think what that means. The condition of the air is constantly changing with the weather. It's hot or cold, damp or dry, according to what the weather man says. Naturally, your "gas" mixture changes, too.

That's why Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This makes Mobilgas mix better with air. Sudden weather changes no longer affect the "gas" mixture.

Try Mobilgas—and see what this means in performance. It's sold at all stations and dealers where you see the Flying Red Horse.

SEE THAT WORD "MOBILGAS"—there on the gas pump? The gasoline you buy here will give you top-notch performance. It's the only gasoline with Climatic Control.

Big And Little Speculators To Find New Rules Identical On New York Stock Exchange

Noted Financial Writer Explains New Bill, Pointing Out Advantages For Average Citizen Despite Inconveniences Until Public Is Used To Different Regulations

Looking down into the heart of New York's financial district—Wall Street.

James M. Landis

Richard Whitney

By LESLIE GOULD
Noted New York Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 5.—Under the new stock exchange regulation law the same rules will apply to the big fellow as to the little fellow for the first time in the history of this form of speculation and investment in this country.

If properly administered, the advantage should be all for the average citizen, although some annoyance and inconvenience is expected at the start.

What Rules Mean
To the average man or woman who trades in the market or buys on instalment, the new rules will mean:

1. Thirty five per cent higher margins if the present account is under $5,000 and 80 per cent if it is more than $5,000.

2. Fewer brokerage houses where orders can be placed on a ticker watched.

3. A thinner market in the less active issues. That is, more difficulty will be found in getting a buyer or seller in issues that do not now enjoy a broad or active market.

4. Greater information on a stock and the corporation in which it represents an interest.

5. Less spectacular markets with pools and other manipulations barred.

6. Greater attention to earnings prospects and dividends.

7. Fewer tips.

From the foregoing, it is apparent that the regulations if sanely administered should work no great hardship on the average citizen desiring to buy or sell a security. The principal effect will be in the margins but there, if the account is under $5,000, brokers report the few requirements are already being met.

The new law provides 45 per cent margin. This is 45 per cent of the current market price must be put up and maintained. If a stock drops to a point where the margin is less than 45 per cent, more margin must be put up. According to brokers, most accounts under $5,000 are now 50 per cent margined.

Present Requirements
The present margin requirements of the New York Stock Exchange are for accounts under $5,000, 50 per cent of the debit balance and for accounts over $5,000 30 per cent of the debit balance.

On a $100 stock, the buyer with an account of less than $5,000 puts up now $33.33 1-3. This is 50 per cent of the debit balance which in this case would be $66.66 2-3.

The debit balance is the difference between the purchase price and the margin. Under the new law the margin is figured directly on the purchase price. It is 45 per cent regardless of the size of the account.

Under the present system, the small trader puts only a margin of 33 1-3 per cent of the market price, while the big trader deposits only 25 per cent. This different method of figuring margins has caused considerable confusion in the public's mind.

The following table shows the difference in margin requirements under the new law and those now prevailing on the stock exchange for accounts under $5,000. The table shows the stock, the price at which the margin was figured, the new basis and the old.

slated for chairmanship of the new board. He, Ferdinand Pecora, the senate's Wall street prosecutor and Benjamin Cohen, New York attorney, had more to do with drafting of the bill than any other individuals. Landis and Cohen are classed as Brain Trusters.

Landis, son of an American missionary to Japan was graduated from Harvard with the highest honors of anyone with the exception of Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis and later taught at Princeton.

Complete Authority
The plan is to have the new commission supervise the stock exchange and the various little boards scattered throughout the country. If this plan is followed Stock Exchange President Richard Whitney and his staff will run the machine under the direction of Landis and his fellow commissioners.

Whitney, brother of Morgan partner, George Whitney was just re-elected head of the world's largest security market for his fifth term. He led the fight against the bill and its sponsors, including Landis. The exchange fought hardest to prevent the Federal Trade commission becoming the regulatory body.

SEVEN BROTHERS DIE

VIOLENT DEATHS

University Students 1500 Strong, On Rampage

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Fifteen hundred students of the University of Pennsylvania early today went on their first "rampage" in three years, as they swept through the streets smashing windows, damaging homes and shops and battling 300 police for several hours.

"The reign of terror," estimated by one who has caused property damage of several thousand dollars, started in the early morning hours when hundreds of students poured out of fraternity houses and dormitories, the majority stripped to the waist and apparently "ready for action."

After laying down a barrage of milk bottles, the frenzied students began the work of damaging hotels, drug stores, private homes, buses and trolley cars. Police, rushed from every available station house, charged the youths in an attempt to round them up.

While bricks, bottles and other missiles flew through the air and West Philadelphia residents fled in terror, police managed to capture 64 of the rioters. They were speedily placed in cells at the nearest police station.

I have been connected with the county administration for a period of 14 years, and know something of the bonds which have been issued by the county in this time, as I helped prepare for their issue. I know that when they were issued, there was an expression for a new court house, but the demand for hard roads was so insistent at that time, that the court house was laid aside.

Million For Roads

"You remember the county voted a million dollars for good roads in 1918, and that several hundred thousand dollars additional was put into the construction of roads. With their construction, the townships and individuals living in them were relieved of the upkeep of these roads, which has been a tremendous saving to them in road taxes. In 1933, the state appropriated thirteen million dollars to be apportioned among the townships for roads, according to the amount of dirt roads in the townships, which amounted to $117 per mile, all this in relief of the townships.

"I believe you will find the next legislature will take over the entire road system throughout the state.

"In the city, if a street is paved the cost is assessed against the abutting property. There is no relief for road improvements to the residents of the city. They do that with their highways in the state of Ohio.

Right To Improvement

"We think the people in the city have a right to help pay for the construction of these county roads and they were glad and willing to do it. But we have a right to have this improvement in the city, also.

"I was attorney for the county when this matter first came up, and there was not a man on the board who was in favor of the immediate construction of a court house, until they were informed by Dr. Bennett of the attitude of the state toward the counties which did not try to help out in this great crisis.

"Supposing that the Federal government took away the aid that they have been supplying in the county? (Mr. Lockhart cited the figure of $22,000 per month, which Dr. Bennett corrected, stating it was nearer $75,000 per month.) Multiply this sum by 12 for two or three years and the amount would greatly exceed the cost of a court house.

"You would think from some of the statements made here a week ago, that this new court house would be built for some of the county officers and not for the convenience of the public and the citizens of Lawrence county.

"This is a seventy million dollar corporation here in Lawrence county. Can you imagine any private corporation of such capitalization putting up with a building of this character? Twenty-four grand juries, after spending a few days in this court room and then inspecting the premises, have recommended unanimously that a new court house be built.

I have been connected with the county administration for a period of 14 years, and know something of the bonds which have been issued by the county in this time, as I helped prepare for their issue. I know that when they were issued, there was an expression for a new court house, but the demand for hard roads was so insistent at that time, that the court house was laid aside.

New Money

Edward J. Davis also made a strenuous appeal in behalf of the court house. "There is not a man or woman in this audience who can say that we do not need a million dollars in new money to be brought into this country and spent. If you do not take this now, when you can it, you are going to have to dig down deep into your own pockets because you are your brother's keeper, if you have the means to keep him. High taxes spent for honest worthwhile projects, never broke anybody."

Joshua Speaks

Rev. C. S. Joshua, spoke on the matter from a humanitarian angle. He stated that he was not a property holder and hesitated to say anything because of this fact, but that he paid what taxes he was called upon to pay and spent his money for various, worthwhile projects which had been met which paved the way for the construction of the building. Plans have been drawn and approved, the money has been awarded by the government and all that is necessary is for the commissioners to pick a site and start construction.

Rev. Joshua cited that every need had been met which paved the way for the construction of the building. Plans have been drawn and approved, the money has been awarded by the government and all that is necessary is for the commissioners to pick a site and start construction.

Smith Called Upon

C. Ed Smith Jr. stated that there is no time like the present to start this project." I was here last week and the only objection I heard against the project was the matter of cost. Mr. Lockhart referred to this as a $70,000,000 corporation. Lawrence county is a $140,000,000 corporation. He spoke only of the assessed value, not the real value. If I was a county commissioner, if I had started a project I would go through with it if I never got another vote for office," he concluded.

Wouldn't Cheat Future

Ben Kline stated that he had served as foreman of a grand jury once, about 16 years ago and at that time, the jury unanimously recommended the building of a new court house. He could not see how the need had lessened since that time. "I believe you will be cheating the future generation if you do not accept this offer of aid now," Mr. Kline stated.

A resolution was then presented and passed which called upon the county commissioners to immediately procure a site and start construction of the building.

Parent-Teacher Associations

COUNCIL MEETING

The council of the Lawrence County Parent-Teacher Associations was held Saturday evening at the West Side school, with the president, Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, presiding.

The work of the past year was reviewed and plans were laid for next fall's work, with the executives planning to bring some children's plays to the city. A number of the newer members of the association were present.

Ivor Davis Heard

Chairman Wadlinger then called upon Ivor V. Davis, local citizen, whom he stated, owned property in many different wards of the city.

Mr. Davis stated that he was vitally interested in the matter of a new court house, as he owned property in almost every ward of the city, and believes that it is for the best interests of the city that the court house be built.

"I am not interested in the matter of a site. All I would like to see is the construction of this building," Mr. Davis said.

Andrews For Project

C. H. Andrews spoke in favor of the project and stated that the average cost to each person would not be over $20 or $25 over a period of that many years. "We have been using this present building for 80 or 90 years. What has the county done for itself to increase and improve its own holdings in this time? Let us do something that will be of some benefit to ourselves in addition to those who need work," Andrews stated.

Morrow Presents Thought

Charles Morrow, of Wampum, was called upon. Mr. Morrow stated that the residents of the county were making a determined effort to secure a waterways through the county. "If we turn down the construction of a court house for ourselves, after the government has of-

Johnny Goodman And Lawson Little Stage Practice Round At Merion Course

OLIN DUTRA IS LOW WITH 69

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The galaxy of golf starts clustering about the course of the Merion Cricket Club where the National open championship will begin on Thursday was more brightly illuminated today by the presence of the defending champion, Johnny Goodman and the newly crowned British amateur titleholder, W. Lawson Little.

Trying to get their sea legs adjusted to the greens and fairways after a boat ride from Boston to New York and a train trip to Philadelphia both Goodman and Little were primed to wield their sticks in another practice round today.

Dutra Shoots 69

After arriving together last evening, the defending titlist and the San Francisco phenomenon accompanied each other to Merion and plunged right into the task of getting acquainted with the course. They managed to get in 13 holes before darkness forced them to call a halt.

Little's long blasts from the tee got him into considerable trouble on the Merion course and he admitted that in the two days remaining for practice he will have to discover some means of maneuvering his 300 yard drives.

Goodman was confident he will turn in a commendable performance when play begins in the tournament, even if he does not succeed in retaining his crown. The Omaha youth said "my chances are as good as anyone's."

Olin Dutra provided the greatest excitement of yesterday's practice round when he toured 18 holes in a brilliant 39.

Next to Dutra's card, the best practice performance yesterday was turned in by Henry Cluci, professional of the Fresh Meadow Club on Long Island. His score was 70.

Carnera-Baer To Watch Low Blows

There Will Not Be Any Hitting In Clinches With Paving Bricks Either

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 5.—Not wishing to seem too deeply moved by a spectacle that may, after all, turn out to be something refined and chaste in tableaux or maybe a study in still life, but the indications now are that Carnera and Baer are liable to put on a very disorderly encounter June 14, with something rather good in the way of garrotting and gouging. In fact, there's only one thing they won't stand for: "There's no paving blocks,"

Tired Of Society

Johnston, who handled Fiermonte in all his fights in this country, thought he had seen the last of the Italian shiek when Enzo married the widow of two society millionaires and the mother of two sons almost his own age.

But Fiermonte grew bored lolling around on his wife's yacht at Palm Beach and attending pink teas with his wife's blue-blooded friends and yearned for the thud of fist crashing on jaw, the battle under the bright lights and the cheers of the crowd.

So he asked Johnston to arrange a battle with Rosenbloom. Johnston thinks Enzo must have used his most persuasive, if broken English, to convince his wife he should return to the ring.

New WilmingtonHEAT CAUSES BRICKS TO MOVE

At the ridge of the hill on North Market street, near the College gym, several rows of bricks have come out of their original position due to the contraction caused by the heat.

Borough Commissioner Anderson stuck up red flags to warn of the danger, but stated that it was a state duty to replace the bricks.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the New Wilmington Volunteer Fire company will be held in the club room on June 5, 1934, at 7:30 p.m.

Important business is to be transacted and officers urge all members to be present for this meeting.

BASEBALL NINE TO HAVE BUSY WEEK

Pilot Red McKean and his New Wilmington baseball nine will have a busy week according to Manager Eagleton. Last night the locals met the James Grocer's from New Castle. Wednesday night the College Towners will meet a fast No. 5 team at the Leesburg field, a return match will be played with the James' club on Friday night, while on Saturday afternoon the local aggregation will probably meet the Colonial A. C. from New Castle.

The local lads are in the throes of a winning streak, having lost only one game while winning four, and Manager McKean has his protégés in fine fettle for this week's encounters. "Dink" Campbell, ace hurler of last year's club, has just signed up with the locals and should bolster the pitching staff considerably.

INJURED ON CWA PROJECT

William Kloss, East Neshannock avenue, a laborer on the local CWA force was injured on Saturday morning at the bridge on Maple street extension, when a heavy steel beam which was being slid across the bridge broke loose from its moorings and fell on Kloss's foot. Mr. Kloss continued on with the work stating that his foot was all right. At dinner time however, his foot was so swollen that medical attention was needed and it was discovered that the injuries will necessitate his idleness for at least two weeks.

BIBLE CLASS TO MEET

Mrs. John W. Cox, New Castle road, will be in the role of hostess to the members of the Young Ladies Bible Class of the Methodist church on Friday night, June 8 at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Thomas Cox will be associate hostess.

SWIMMING POOL MEETING

Authorities of the Swimming Pool Association met on Monday at one o'clock in the offices of the Cambell Lumber Company at the call of C. B. White, president of the board. Motion was presented and carried that "the president be empowered to make available to the borough council any and all records including minutes and treasurer's files or any other data that they may request."

Members present at the meeting were: C. B. White, R. A. Shawkey, T. R. Jones, W. A. Shaffer, H. R. Patton and W. F. Campbell.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Profit Taking Sends Market
Irregularly Lower At Opening Today

RAIL SHARES ARE SLIGHTLY EASIER

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 5.—Profit taking induced by yesterday's slight advance sent the stock market irregularly lower today in continued apathetic trading.

U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, New York Central and other leaders declined fractionally.

Reports of rains over the wheat belt both in this country and in Canada brought another selling wave in to the grains, resulting in losses of more than a cent a bushel.

Chemical shares were independently strong under the leadership of Allied Chemical which gained almost 2 points in light trading.

Railroad shares were slightly easier.

Utility shares were somewhat heavy due to the poor action of Consolidated Gas which declined fractionally to come within striking distance of its year's low.

Mail order and farm shares were quiet and slightly easier. Oils marked time as did aviations.

Two Men Held In Boy's Death

Believe West Virginia Boy
Slain Because He Knew
About Bootleggers

BOY'S BODY IS FOUND IN AVE

(International News Service)

PHILIPPI, W. Va., June 5.—With two men being held for questioning, officials here today were understood to be working on a theory that Dale Janes, 15-year-old schoolboy, was beaten and buried alive because he knew the whereabouts of a bootleg liquor still in the hill region near Philippi.

The theory that the boy may have been "put out of the way" in order to keep him from revealing the whereabouts of the illicit liquor still was investigated by authorities after friends of Janes said he had told them he had made such a discovery.

Following the discovery of the boy's body Monday, officials took two men into custody for questioning. They were Lawrence Carroll, 28, a former inmate of the State hospital, and Gordon Blake, 35, officials declined to reveal what grounds of suspicion, if any, they had in questioning the two men.

As soon as her plight was noticed, a telephone call was sent to the city police station. A police car with Lieutenant McMullen, Patrolmen Thomas and Richards and Police Matron McKibben dashed to the scene. The car contained a pulmometer and grappling hooks.

Major Mayne and a news man also rushed to Castle Beach in another car. When the police officials arrived the girl had already been taken from the water and to her home, apparently little the worse for her harrowing experience.
